

Cyber Liability Cover

FMG's Cyber Liability offering is provided via Delta Insurance. The policy is divided into five sections each with their own specific focus.

Crisis Management

Focusses on what needs to be done in the immediate aftermath following a breach or attack

- Data forensic expenses
- Breach consultation services
- Costs to restore
- Breach response costs
- Public relation costs

Business Interruption

Responds to the financial cost sustained due to the interruption to the business caused by a network attack

- Loss of income
- Extra expenses

First Party covers

Focusses on the costs and losses you sustain as result of an attack or to quantify a complex claim under the policy

- Hacker theft
- Network extortion
- Loss adjuster costs
- Social engineering fraud*

Third Party Covers

Focusses on the amounts you are liable to pay others in the event of a breach

- Third party liability
- Regulator liability
- Investigation liability
- PCI DSS cover
- Consumer redress fund

Automatic Extensions

A set of benefits which extend or compliment the covers provided in the earlier sections

- Personal reputation cover
- Emergency costs*
- Loss mitigation costs*
- Network failure*
- Network improvement*

Key types of cyber events

Hacker theft

Cover for amounts wrongfully or erroneously paid as a direct result of a hacker targeting your network for intrusion and fraudulently or without authorisation altering or deleting data.

Social engineering fraud*

Covers you for amounts paid to an unintended and unrelated party due to an employee or executive falling victim to a phishing, vishing (e.g. a phone call), whaling (phishing targeting high-ranking individuals or executives) or other social engineering attack.

Network extortion

Covers amounts paid to any person or entity to avoid, defend, preclude, or resolve a credible threat by someone who has breached your network security and threatened they are going to attack the network, disclose personal data or release confidential business information.

*Only included in the Cyber Liability comprehensive and premier offerings.

The FMG difference

FMG has its roots firmly planted in rural New Zealand, which is why you'll find that we're different when it comes to insurance. We were started in 1905 by farmers for farmers and growers, and today we're still 100% New Zealand owned by our rural clients.
